3.0 Main report

3.1 Maritime Festival

The Maritime Festival continues to be a Distinctly Belfast experience, the event location lends itself to the integration of the many heritage assets on the Maritime Mile. The heritage sites were given the opportunity to share marketing opportunities, additional programming or discounts as part of the overall event programme. This year's programme increased the creative ambition yet again by continuing to align with our 10-year Cultural Strategy, engaging an array of creative organisations with the vast majority of festival participants from the Belfast area.

On Saturday 5 and Sunday 6 September, 57,000 people of all ages enjoyed a celebration of Belfast's rich maritime past and innovative future along the Maritime Mile – from Sailorstown/ City Quays to HMS Caroline. Up to 40,000 attended on Saturday, with particularly wet and windy weather affecting Sunday attendance, resulting in less than half of the attendance on the same day of the 2023 event.

The wider festival was organised by Belfast City Council's Events team, in partnership with Maritime Belfast Trust, which delivered specific festival activity on the Slipways.

The festival was successful in securing £30,000 from Tourism NI (TNI) international events fund. The event was coordinated and implemented through a governance structure consisting of three working groups – marcomms, production/logistics and creative. Dashboard reports were presented to a programme board with senior representatives from Belfast City Council, Belfast Harbour, DfC and Maritime Belfast Trust. All groups met on a monthly basis creating the opportunity to further enhance partner collaboration and strengthen the creative festival profile.

3.2 Maritime Festival: Programming

Queens Quay hosted Science Street, a space for hands-on learning and discovery – from marine biology and climate change to biodiversity. Close by was Kids Cove, where younger visitors enjoyed arts and crafts, circus and dance and pirate play time. ‘Maritime Presents Festival of Fools by the Sea’ was held at the Arc, a mix of live street circus, theatre and walkabout animation. Close by the Nomadic, the Hamilton Dock Maritime Village celebrated past and future with immersive technology, interactive exhibits and boat building exhibitions.

A music programme & funfair was held at the historic Slipways with an extended Saturday evening programme including the headline Act ‘Hothouse Flowers’ delivered in partnership with Maritime Belfast Trust. The Slipways Street Food Market was also located here, with local and regional producers showcasing and selling their goods supported by DAERA, through the NI Regional Food Programme (NIRFP).

To complement the musical offering at the Slipways, there were three further performance spaces along the Maritime Mile, extending from Donegall Quay, to the Soundyard, and finally as far as HMS Caroline/Titanic Distillers.

New to the programme for 2025, was ‘City Sensations’, an Accessible & Inclusive programme of activities held on the Antrim side of the river in the recently developed City Quays Gardens. This engaging area offered a diverse range of entertainment and opportunities to get involved, including captivating on-stage performances, interactive games and activities, and music learning stations for all to enjoy. Between City Quays and the footbridge, DRIFT, a legacy project from 2024, was located at Donegall Quay. This unique floating installation provided a number of workshops and was in situ from the Bank Holiday weekend 23rd to 25th August with activities, from Friday 29th August to Friday 5th September and after the duration of the Festival for one or two days.

A Community Co-design project engaging Sailortown Regeneration, The Met and Passers-by provided programme enhancements in the form of public art, theatre or performance. There had also been ongoing engagement across the industry to showcase local offerings in conjunction with the overall festival programme.

Our media partner Bauer Media Group was on site across the weekend with prizes, games and giveaways.

Two naval vessels had to withdraw at short notice due to operational notice, and the Spanish Galleon 'Andalucia' withdrew the week prior due to strong winds and difficult weather in the Irish Sea. Despite this, the 'Granuaile' provided a spectacle on Queens Quay, and Sailability operated from the marina, offering accessible sailing, educational tours and animating the river. Ship recruitment remains a priority area of work for 2027 with a number of influencing factors under consideration.

As part of our sustainability approach, Visitors attending the Belfast Maritime Festival were encouraged to walk, cycle, take the Glider from Belfast city centre directly to the Titanic Quarter, or travel by train to Titanic Quarter Halt. Cycle parking was available outside Titanic Belfast and at Belfast Bike docks at the SSE Arena.

This will include addressing holistically the challenges and opportunities in relation to city events in their current form. For example, we know that the St Patrick's Day Celebrations in particular requires consideration of a multi-year planning approach.

3.14 St Patrick's Day: Marketing and Communications

Under the theme of 'Celebrating Together' an integrated marketing and PR campaign began in October 2025 with headline announcements, building to a full programme launch in February 2026.

The goal of the marketing and communications campaign will be to generate widespread positive media coverage across broadcast, print and online media, plus strong interest and engagement on social media. Coverage will engage major print and digital outlets including BBC, UTV, Cool FM, Q Radio, the Belfast Telegraph, Irish News, and Belfast Live.

Council will develop a digital and outdoor advertising campaign from February 2026 to promote the events taking place under the St Patrick's Celebrations umbrella. The advertising campaign will target online advertising, radio and outdoor promotion in the form of adshells, impact wraps, digital hubs, adshel lives and bus T-sides. The campaign will direct people to belfastcity.gov.uk/stpatricks where the event information was displayed prominently on the page.

3.15 Lord Mayor's Day

The Events team are liaising with the Lord Mayor's office to identify and agree a date in early May 2026 for this and will develop a programme for delivery in the coming months.

3.16 Events Action Plan Update

Belfast City Council is developing a new Events Action Plan to shape how the city supports, delivers and promotes events over the next five years. The Plan will provide a shared framework to strengthen Belfast's reputation as a leading city for distinctive, inclusive and high-impact events that contribute to cultural life, tourism, community pride and the wider economy.

The Council is working with Festivals and Events International (FEI) to develop the Plan, drawing on local expertise and insight from across Belfast's culture, tourism and festivals and events ecosystem. As part of this process, FEI have undertaken a series of workshops and conversations with key partners and stakeholders, Elected Members and the creative sector, to better understand current strengths, challenges and future opportunities. An online Public Survey was developed and available on Yoursay up to 19 December. This engagement will ensure the action plan reflects a shared vision for the city's future as both a festival city and a world class events destination.

It is anticipated that recommendations and next steps on the action plan will be brought to March committee.

3.17 America 250

On 4th July 2026, the USA will celebrate 250 years since the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Many Ulster-Scots people helped create this document that shaped the future of the United States of America. To mark this significant anniversary, DfC are leading on development work to highlight this unique contribution. The Ulster Scots Agency have shared proposals for activity aligned to;

- Flagship concert to mark the 250th anniversary to take place in July
- Sister cities conference to take place in Assembly Buildings in May

Ulster Scots Agency are seeking funding of up to £50,000 from BCC to support their plans, this would be match funding against provision from DfC. This proposal would align with the Council's Language Strategy Action Plan, which provides for supporting events which promote Ulster Scots.
