On the 18th August, Andrew King and several friends and family members gathered from Belfast City Hall to the Titanic Building to display up 5000 balloons from the pocket Scar Wars franchise. This work was done in order to raise funds for the Children's Hospice and Tristram G. Meale Trust and was in honour of Andrew's nephew, Oliver King, who passed away earlier this year. Thanks to the generous donations from the public, an amount of £2200 was raised for the cause.
